Get Ready For WLO's Annual Meeting!

We can't believe how quickly another year has passed! Suddenly, it's April again and time for our annual meeting. Join us on Tuesday, April 19 at 5pm. Keep an eye out on Saturday, April 9, for a special goodie bag delivery.

We'll have a questionnaire for you to share your ideas. There will be a ballot. During the meeting, we reserved time to look back at the last 12 months but also forward. Of course we set aside time for a little celebration, complete with a bit of champagne to mark the festive occasion that it is. Finally, there is one more surprise to be revealed that day. Don't miss it!

WLOO Garden Plot is in Business

We are very happy to announce that our Adopt a Plot at Luscher Farm is ready to be worked on or visited. We start in April. Feel free to drop by every Wednesday and Friday at 11 o'clock, whether you're ready to get your hands dirty or just to provide moral support. We will meet on Wednesday after our Chat and Stroll.

We've planted sugar snap peas and chard already. Now, we want you to join in the fun of planting, weeding (so much of that) and enjoying the progress of our gardens. And even having a chance to sample.

The plots are well-marked right across from the Community Gardens behind the barn. We have seeds and will be provided starts by the farm so when the ground is ready we will be doing lots more planting. If you'd like to grow anything in particular please let us know. We all have favorites. We have two blueberry bushes between the plots which will provide some great snacks while doing our tending. There is no place like the farm in spring and summer. One of Lake Oswego's best kept secrets.

Please join us rain or shine and let's plan our bounty for Meals on Wheels and Hunger Fighters.

Changes in Leadership at the Hub-Level, VillagesNW

Springtime – the time when new shoots, buds, and blossoms burst with the energy of renewal and growth.

And so it seems to be with our VNW Board. Our beloved and respected Charlie Meyer has stepped down from his role as Board President to follow more family-oriented pursuits. (Maybe actual retirement this time?) And now, at this pivotal point, Althea Ender, our current Board VP, has assumed the leadership role. We will anticipate the influence of new leadership.

We will miss Charlie's steady, patient, insightful leadership. Under his careful watch, VNW has flourished, despite COVID. Problems and challenges were always addressed in a calm, respectful, solution-oriented manner. The business-at-hand was expertly managed.

We owe Charlie an unfathomable THANK YOU for setting us on a course toward successful realization of our mission and goals. We wish him the best of luck, laughter, good health, and much love in his family circle.

Already Althea has proven to be a stalwart team member whose experience in Kaiser Community Integration programs have given her an excellent foundation for continuing the Mission of VNW. She has worked collaboratively, demonstrating utmost respect for people and their ideas, searching for—and connecting with—important resources, and building bridges. Her personal values reflect a deep respect for the activities and opportunities that will build better, more colorful and cohesive communities, just as springtime offers a variety of color to the garden and the neighborhood.

So, this Spring, watch for new and continued leadership as the fertile ground is made ready for more growth. We are looking for seeds, starts, and blossoms of expertise, experience, and volunteer energy. Our success depends upon the willingness of many to share their perspective, ideas, and skills.

Please step up and lend us your time and talent. Help us keep the Villages and VNW Hub vital, colorful, and evolving. We need you, and perhaps you need us. Together let's keep Villages NW growing and glowing with the energy of springtime throughout the year.

We are welcoming new members Elmer G. who will join on April 1, and Anne S. who joined at the beginning of March. A heartfelt 'welcome' and thank you for supporting our community and for your help to keep it growing!

Recycling Options: Just Where Does This Stuff go?

As always, our thank goes to Terry Shumaker for putting these recycling articles together for the benefit of everyone.

The world of recycling is a constantly moving target. Even Master Recyclers such as myself must constantly check with local authorities to determine what can be taken, where and when. So for the average citizen who wishes to just do the right thing, it can be a daunting task. So let's take a look at some reasonably constant resources we can rely on in addition to regular use of your curbside bin.

Two fee-based recycling services, Ridwell and James, are available should you wish to explore paid options.

Ridwell

This company provides pickup at your door for items that cannot be put in your curbside-recycling bin. They provide a metal box to place by your door and several bags to hold your recyclables. Basic pricing is $16 for three months, $14 for six months, and $12 for 12 months. A wide variety of items are collected, some on a rotating basis as part of your fee, and some, such as Styrofoam, are collected for an additional fee.

Ridwell's entry into West Linn has not been without its controversy regarding waste hauling franchise issues. You may wish to explore this option in greater detail by visiting their website at <https://www.ridwell.com>.

James Recycling

In addition to curbside pickups in Portland, this organization also conducts neighborhood collection events. They accept a wide variety of materials, including small plastic items we normally throw away, but all items must be separated and bagged according to their requirements. Get detailed information on what they accept and sign up to get email notifications of event locations on their website at <https://jshrecycling.com>. You can also view informative videos on what items they accept and how to prepare them.

West Linn Sustainability Coalition

This local group hosts monthly recycling events at the Robinwood Station Community Center on Cedar Oak Dr. in West Linn. They accept a variety of plastics, rigid foam, beauty care containers and writing instruments. Stay informed of their events by visiting their Facebook page at <https://www.facebook.com/groups/wlsustainabilitycoalition>.

Oregon Metro Station, Oregon City

A wide variety of recyclable items are accepted at this collection facility, including appliances, tires, old paint and most hazardous materials. Find out where you can recycle almost anything by visiting their website at <https://www.oregonmetro.gov/tools-living/garbage-and-recycling/find-a-recycler>.

WLLO RECYCLING TEAM

As many of you already know, your WLLO Recycling Team provides recycling pickup services monthly, and the items we collect include many items you cannot put in your curbside bin. Although we cannot handle appliances, we do accept a wide variety of items. This service for our members prevents a lot of unneeded driving by individuals to dispose of recyclable items. See below for our pickups for the next three months.

WLLO RECYCLING COLLECTION SCHEDULE

April 12: Hazardous products and materials. View the Oregon Metro website for hazardous products at <https://www.oregonmetro.gov/tools-living/healthy-home/common-hazardous-products> for a current list of acceptable items. Don't forget; this includes all of those old cans of paint you've been hoarding for years.

May 10: Building materials, fixtures (light & plumbing), lumber etc. We deliver to the Rebuilding Center. Their website provides a complete list of acceptable materials. Visit them at <https://www.rebuildingcenter.org/donations>.

June 14: Electronics and most anything with a power cord. Our collected items go to Free Geek. Since the items they accept change, please check their website at <https://www.freegeek.org/small-donation> for items they accept, and also for those things they do not accept.

Remember, every month we accept plastic film. Contact Suanne Jackson at suannej@wllovillage.org if you have items to be picked up on April 12.

Coffee and Conversation

Friday, April 8, 11:00 am

Hosted by Village Without Walls

Grab a cup of coffee or tea and join in the discussion. We share information and opinions in a friendly atmosphere to encourage learning and social connection.

This month's theme: Social Media and Freedom of Speech

Social media sites allow the rapid spread of all speech, whether protected or not, and such messages spread around the world, and sometimes stir people into action. Striking a balance between undeterred free speech and censorship to protect values considered worthy of protection is indeed a difficult exercise. Censorship of social media speech may not outweigh the benefit of forbidding a particular speech but allowing complete free speech on social media may also have negative impacts, such as fostering cyber bullying or hate speech.

- Do social media platforms have the right to decide what types of messages can be posted?
- Should the government regulate social media messaging?
